

IT'S ALL IN THE PLANNING!

When creating revision timetables, rather than trying to revise all your subjects every week, focus on revising half of the subjects you're taking in one week and the other half the following week, etc.

A revision timetable tells you what you need to revise each day and puts you in control of your revision. Don't worry if at any point you get behind. By working towards revising all topics by your first exam, you can catch up between exams.

CREATE YOUR REVISION PLAN

1. Write the name of the subjects you are revising along the top. Make a note of which week your planner is for and create a new planner for each week of your revision timetable. (Template is on the next page so you can print off as many as you need)
2. Enter the name of the topic you are going to be revising and how long you are going to revise for against each day of the week (see example planner on the right)
