How to use Treasure House

Treasure House is an enjoyable and immersive framework that can be used in different ways according to your pupils' needs. Containing potentially 30 weeks of teaching inspiration, Treasure House aims to give teachers the freedom to teach literacy in an exciting and dynamic way.

Who is Treasure House for?

You can use Treasure House across the whole school from Year 1 to Year 6, either as a whole school programme or within individual year groups.

How can I use Treasure House?

The programme is a flexible approach to literacy teaching that allows teachers to either cover the whole programme or explore different strands in isolation.

How are Treasure House resources structured?

Treasure House is not a prescriptive scheme of work with fixed lesson plans. It has a flexible structure which supports you in delivering a more demanding skills based curriculum and in progressing pupils' language skills. The resources can be used within standalone teaching activities or as part of a wider sequence of lessons.

Pupil resources

Print and digital resources are organised into the skills laid out in the curriculum.

There are 5 printed Pupil Books for each year group, each covering a different core skill. Digital resources are also available on Collins Connect.

Teacher's resources

Teaching is supported with a Teacher's Guide and an Anthology for each year group.

Find out more about teacher support later in this course guide.

Reading for Pleasure

Teacher support

Why should I choose Treasure House?

For pupils...

- Develops core language skills featured in the National Curriculum for English
- Enhances creativity and develops imagination through exciting learning activities
- Allows opportunities for differentiated learning and supports pupils of all abilities
- Encourages reading for pleasure by immersing pupils in high quality literature

'Reading also feeds pupils' imagination and opens up a treasure-house of wonder and joy for curious young minds'

The National Curriculum in England, 2014.

For teachers...

- Supports teaching of the 2014 English programme of study
- Saves planning and preparation time with potentially 30 weeks of teaching inspiration
- Enables you to focus on the needs of your pupils through flexible resources
- Ensures frequent formative assessment opportunities
- Provides frequent opportunities to assess mastery and progression of the core literacy skills

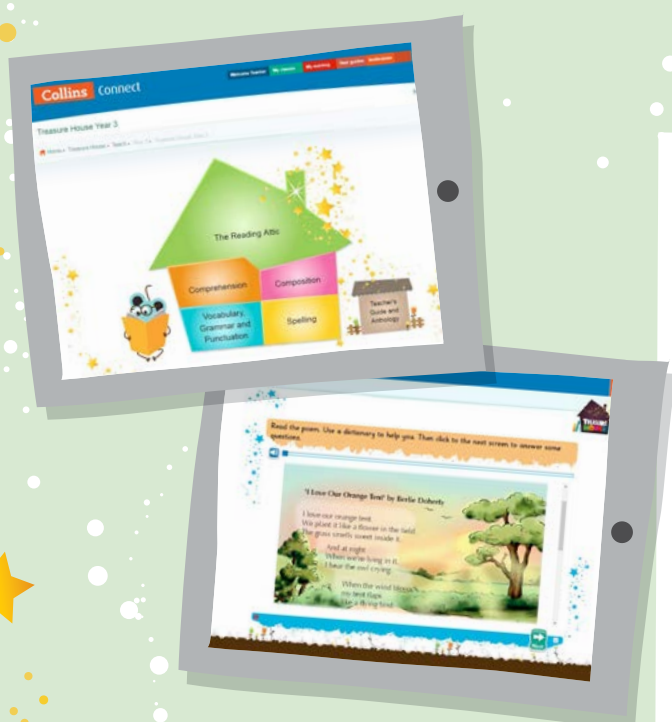

'High quality resources, including textbooks, can support teaching, reduce workload by teachers not having to 'reinvent the wheel', and ensure high expectations of the content of lessons and conceptual knowledge.'

Independent Teacher Workload Review Group, March 2016

Treasure House digital resources

Subscriptions to Treasure House digital resources allow flexibility. You can subscribe by skill or as a complete package per year group allowing you to select resources that will suit your pupils' needs. Treasure House digital resources are available on Collins Connect, an innovative learning platform designed to support teachers and pupils.

Collins Connect

Treasure House can help me:

- Cover the core skills laid out in the National Curriculum for English
- Deliver engaging and interactive lesson activities
- Engage pupils' interest in source texts through audio support features and exciting starter videos
- Inspire a love of literature with high quality text-extracts including poetry, prose and non-fiction

Homework and Assessment

Treasure House on Collins Connect offers a neat solution to post-levels assessment. You can easily enter mastery judgements across the whole curriculum using a simple traffic light system, then view and break down assessment data in a variety of ways: for example, you might want a detailed breakdown on each child's progress to take to parents' evening or show Ofsted, or a broad-level overview to assist with your planning.

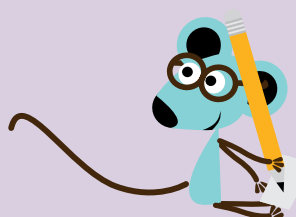

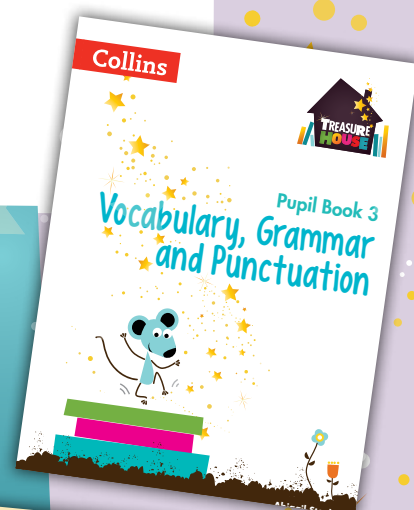

Treasure House covers the core skills embedded in the National Curriculum for English. Teaching of these skills is weaved together through creative teaching sequences covering Reading, Writing and Spoken Language.

Dedicated support for each skill is provided by printed resources.

Vocabulary, Grammar and Punctuation

Treasure House focuses on the applied use of grammar, enabling pupils to understand and master the skills in context. Boost dictionary skills and enable an effective use of vocabulary with fun and practical activities.

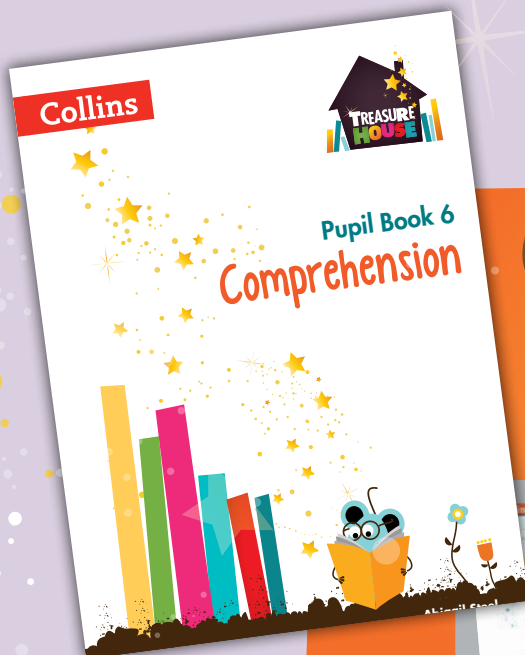

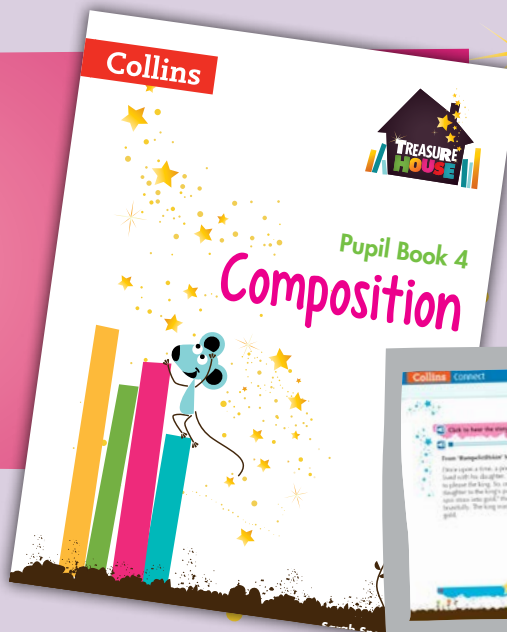

Spelling

Covers all the National Curriculum objectives for spelling through activities suggested in discrete and flexible teaching sessions. Reinforce each spelling rule with a huge, varied bank of practice questions and help children to remember key spelling rules by investigating how they work.

Composition

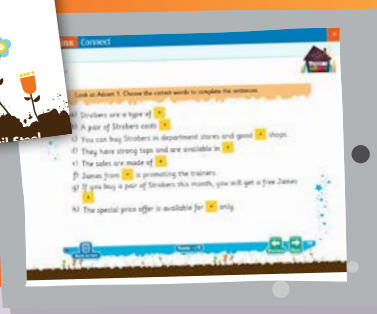

Treasure House enable your pupils to become competent writers. Teaching sequences provide pupils with the inspiration and model for their writing and support them in the generation and organisation of ideas.

Comprehension

The comprehension teaching in Treasure House is built on questions that will stimulate pupils' ability to think more deeply, and explore meaning in both broader context and closer detail. Teaching sequences include high quality, annotated text extracts covering poetry, prose, traditional tales, playscripts and nonfiction.

Handwriting

Teach children to write in a fluent, legible style of handwriting starting with fine motor movements at Foundation, moving through to pre-cursive and then cursive writing. The practice sheets facilitate a smooth progression from early mark-making to fluent handwriting.

Write-in Word Books allow extra handwriting practise as children can build up their own dictionary for each letter of the alphabet.

Treasure House Teacher Support

Treasure House provides extensive teacher support through Teacher's Guides and Anthologies in print and digital. Each Teacher's Guide contains 15 teaching sequences which follow the same four phases:

- Enjoy and immerse engages children with a source text through discussion and comprehension
- Capture and organise uses discussion, drama and writing to help pupils analyse text in more detail
- Collaborative composition supports group and class work exploring the process of writing
- Independent writing provides opportunities for pupils to construct texts independently

Treasure House Anthologies are packed with fully illustrated, extended extracts from all text types specified in the Curriculum from classic to contemporary fiction and non-fiction.

The Reading Attic

The Reading Attic provides extra digital resources to enhance your literacy lessons even further.

Discover a bank of texts from much-loved children's authors for your pupils to explore! Lesson sequences accompany the texts, with drama opportunities and creative strategies for engaging children with key themes, characters and plots.

The Reading Attic features extracts from books by authors including-

- Michael Morpurgo
- David Walliams
- Michael Bond
- Derek Landy

You can access five audio extracts from each of the books, with an accompanying lesson for each extract. Enough to get even your reluctant readers enthralled!
