

CHAPTER 1

The name is Kade, Jack Kade. I take the jobs the cops can't do. I clear the skyways of the scum of the universe. I hunt down the gangsters, the kidnapers, every kind of low life. It's a dirty job, but somebody has to do it.

I get my orders from the top.

So there I was at Pad 5, Saturn City. Saturn City is the hub. From there you can reach most of the known planets. I pulled out my phone and looked at the mug shot of my latest target. I had to find him and put him back in prison where he belonged.

The Perp was a class A scumbag by the name of Zab Hekko, an ugly slab of pure evil.

I looked at the face on the screen. I saw grey skin. He had two sets of jaws with needle teeth. He had the eyes of a bug and a nose like an elephant's trunk. I tried to picture the lady this freak was dating!

I had put Hekko away five years back. Hekko's the worst kind of bug terrorist. A cop had arrested him, so he had blown up the guy's home planet. I'd call that over the top.
