Imagine you are Joe. Write diary entries for the first and last days of your holiday explaining how you feel.

An open notebook is shown from a top-down perspective. The left page is labeled 'Monday' in the top right corner, and the right page is labeled 'Sunday' in the top right corner. Both pages are ruled with horizontal lines. A pencil is drawn across the bottom left corner, resting on the 'Monday' page. The notebook has a simple, hand-drawn style with a central gutter.
